HUMANITY IMPARTIALITY

NEUTRALITY INDEPENDENCE

Neutrality and independence, according to Pictet, help us turn the Principles of humanity and impartiality into reality in the field.

VOLUNTARY SERVICE UNITY UNIVERSALITY

Voluntary service, unity and universality are the foundations on which the Red Cross and Red Crescent organizations are built and which enable them to uphold the other principles.

Umanità

The modern, institutional and system-oriented response is built on the classic principle of humanity as well as that of impartiality, referring to the provision of assistance according to need (proportionality) and without discrimination, and the operational principles of independence (autonomy of action) and neutrality (not taking sides)

La risposta moderna, istituzionale e orientata al sistema, si basa sul principio classico di umanità e di imparzialità, che si riferisce alla fornitura di assistenza in base al bisogno (proporzionalità) e senza discriminazioni, e sui principi operativi di indipendenza (autonomia d'azione) e neutralità (non schieramento).

St. Petersburg Declaration Renouncing the Use, in Time of War, of Certain Explosive Projectiles

Declaration Renouncing the Use, in Time of War, of certain Explosive Projectiles. Saint Petersburg, 29 November/11 December 1868

On the proposition of the Imperial Cabinet of Russia, an International Military Commission having assembled at St. Petersburg in order to examine the expediency of forbidding the use of certain projectiles in time of war between civilized nations, and that Commission having by common agreement fixed the technical limits at which the necessities of war ought to yield to the requirements of humanity, the Undersigned are authorized by the orders of their Governments to declare as follows:

Considering:

That the progress of civilization should have the effect of alleviating as much as possible the calamities of war;

That the only legitimate object which States should endeavour to accomplish during war is to weaken the military forces of the enemy;

That for this purpose it is sufficient to disable the greatest possible number of men;

That this object would be exceeded by the employment of arms which uselessly aggravate the sufferings of disabled men, or render their death inevitable;

That the employment of such arms would, therefore, be contrary to the laws of humanity;

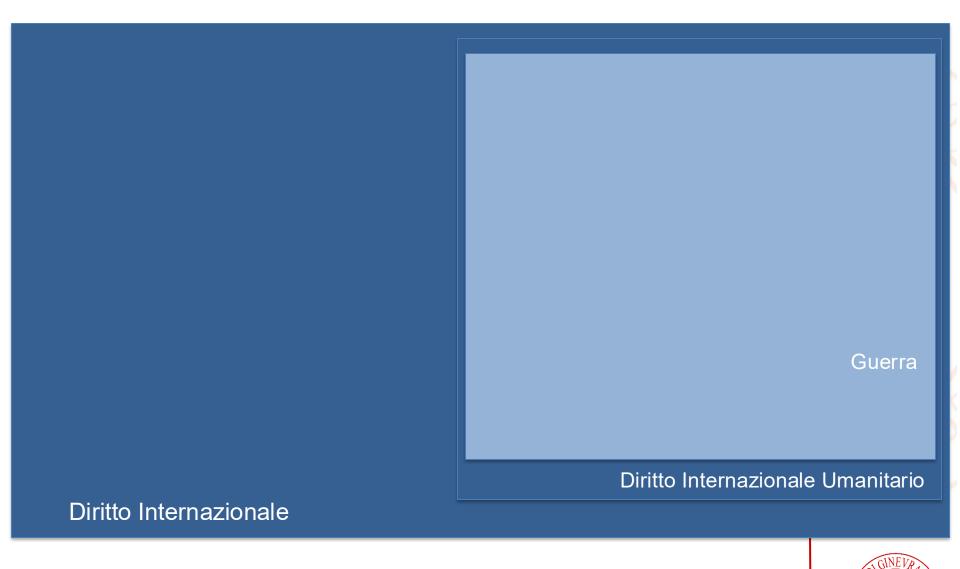

The Contracting Parties engage mutually to renounce, in case of war among themselves, the employment by their military or naval troops of any projectile of a weight below 400 grammes, which is either explosive or charged with fulminating or inflammable substances. They will invite all the States which have not taken part in the deliberations of the International Military Commission assembled at St. Petersburg by sending Delegates thereto, to accede to the present engagement.

This engagement is compulsory only upon the Contracting or Acceding Parties thereto in case of war between two or more of themselves; it is not applicable to non-Contracting Parties, or Parties who shall not have acceded to it.

It will also cease to be compulsory from the moment when, in a war between Contracting or Acceding Parties, a non-Contracting Party or a non-Acceding Party shall join one of the belligerents.

The Contracting or Acceding Parties reserve to themselves to come hereafter to an understanding whenever a precise proposition shall be drawn up in view of future improvements which science may effect in the armament of troops, in order to maintain the principles which they have established, and to conciliate the necessities of war with the laws of humanity.

Done at St. Petersburg, 29 November (11 December) 1868.
